

COOLING TOWER CLEANING APPRENTICE

Position Description:

Long standing company in the growth phase of their lifecycle looking for a candidate who is passionate about working with their hands in the NYC area. You must be a responsive individual that is enthusiastic about having a schedule that changes regularly and be able to adapt into all types of construction environments. Someone with a can-do attitude that is able to get the job done under varying circumstances and last minute changes. This is a full-time, entry-level position with high potential for advancement.

POSITION WILL ENTAIL THE FOLLOWING:

- Assist Foreman in running Cooling Tower cleaning jobs
- Using chlorine & chemicals to clean cooling towers. Protective equipment is provided.
- Handling simple machinery
- Responding to any of our customer's needs or concerns
- Driving the company van
- On-site training
- Experience working on a construction site and/or with hand tools a plus but not required
- OSHA certification and/or HVAC experience a plus but not required

REQUIREMENTS:

- No experience necessary
- Positive-minded individual looking for a career
- Exhibits a "can-do" attitude in all facets of the business
- Excellent verbal & written communication skills
- Reliable
- Ability to lift 40-70 pounds
- Must have clean, valid driver's license
- Ability to pass a physical & drug screening
- Criminal background check

COMPENSATION:

- Starting at $16.50 per hour. Higher hourly rates possible for experienced applicants.
- Transportation compensation to Manhattan
- Health benefits after 90 days
- Ten days PTO
- 401K after one (1) year of employment